FORMER ANDOVER MAN ELECTED TO NATIONAL SKI HALL OF FAME

Allison Merrill, Hanover, N. H., and Director of Outdoor Affairs at Dartmouth College has received notice from William F. McClure, President of the United States Ski Association and W. Bradford Briggs, President of the United States Ski Educational Foundation that he had been elected to the United States Ski Association National Ski Hall of Fame. The election was by ballot of the Board of Directors and Trustees of the United States Ski Association and the United States Ski Educational Foundation and was in recognition of his great contribution to the growth of the sport of skiing.

He is invited to attend the festivities scheduled at Ishping, N. H., the home of the National Ski Hall of Fame, on Feb. 23 and at that time will be officially inducted into the Ski Hall of Fame.

Mr. Merrill was a graduate of Andover High in 1936 and a graduate of the University of New Hampshire. He was a coach at Dartmouth for many years and served as an official of the Eastern Amateur Ski Association, the National Ski Association and the F. I. S.

In May 1972 a testimonial dinner was held for Mr. Merrill upon his retirement as Dartmouth Ski Coach. Funds were raised at that time for the Al Merrill Silver Fox lighted cross country course. On Jan. 10, 1974 this course was officially opened at the base of Oak Hill Ski Area in Hanover, N. H. Immediately following the ceremony there was an official sanctioned race, "The Silver Fox Trot" held for men, women and junior classified competitors. They came from U. S., Canada, Sweden and racers from colleges in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. Jim Sage, Dartmouth coach said, "This should be one of the best race fields ever collected in Hanover—to help dedicate this exciting addition to the Dartmouth-Hanover Ski facilities. It should represent a fitting tribute to a giant in the Dartmouth skiing tradition: Al Merrill."

Mr. Merrill is the son of Waldo Merrill, Andover, and the late Alice Merrill. He has two children, a son and a daughter, both married.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

No word has been received as to the outcome of the hearing held Tuesday when 15 municipalities, Bethel included, were charged with maintaining a dump within 300 feet of a classified waterway. Representatives of the various towns had to state what their plans were to comply with the regulations.

As of now, the guidelines set forth by the Department of Environmental Protection contain only regulations for sanitary land fill. We have been investigating the possibility of alternatives as we feel the land fill is a temporary means of disposal on which we could expend large sums of money now and find within a few years it would be obsolete.

At the present, a combination separation and incineration system appears to be the most efficient. We are trying to find outlets for material salvaged to lower the cost of such a system. There has been very little research done on this method of disposal, therefore we are contacting anyone who might have some information on recycling as much material as possible.

Several adjoining communities have expressed interest in establishing a regional disposal area which would conceivably lower the costs below what it would be if each has its own facility.

Any method devised is going to be expensive and will present many problems. Our goal is to gather all the information possible and present it to the taxpayers through public meetings when we feel we have at least some preliminary knowledge of the various means of disposal.

TELSTAR MUSIC DEPT. PRESENTING VARIETY SHOW TONIGHT (THURSDAY)

This Thursday evening, Feb. 14, 1974 at 8:00 p. m. at the Telstar Auditorium the music department will be going at it again. They will be presenting their annual variety show which hopefully can continue to be an annual thing.

The acts will be ranging from dancing to acting to, of course, music. The participants do not pretend to be top-notch performers but they have been putting in a lot of work and hope to give you the best of what they've got.

There will be admission charge, with the money going toward the growth of the Telstar Music Dept.

Miss Cynthia Colby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Widd Colby of Rumford Center, has completed her Independent Study Week at the Locke Mills Elementary School under the supervision of Mrs. Barbara Ferguson. Miss Colby is a sophomore at Rumford High and is interested in early elementary education, specifically in the area of reading.

Miss Cynthia Colby

During her week of study, she shared all classroom responsibilities, assisted in giving individual help in readiness activities, operated audio-visual equipment, and observed such visiting teachers as the physical education coordinator, remedial reading specialist, and the Rinehart Writing expert.

Miss Colby is active in the Rumford High Chorus and has worked as a volunteer aid in the summer school program at Rumford.

Her supervising teacher as well as James Johnston, principal of the Locke Mills School, agree that Miss Colby did an excellent job during her Independent Study Week and shows much promise in the field of education.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY RECEIVES DEED FOR MASON HOUSE AT MEETING LAST WEEK

A milestone in the history of Bethel was reached at last Thursday night's meeting of the Bethel Historical Society, when the deed of conveyance for the Moses Mason House and Meeting Room was transferred to the Society by the William Bingham II Trust. Margaret Joy Tibbetts, president of the Society, accepted the deed from Edmond Vachon, acting as Agent for the donors.

In her acceptance remarks, Miss Tibbetts said that the formal dedication of the building would take place sometime during the summer but that the actual turning over of the deed was an important event not only for the Society but for the whole community. "From tonight on, the Moses Mason House and the Moses Mason Meeting Room belong to citizens of this area," said Miss Tibbetts. "It is the Society's hope that this House will become a major contributor to the fostering of knowledge of and pride in the early settlers of this town." She went on to say that membership in the Society is drawn not only from old Bethel families but from newcomers to the town and from neighboring communities, "all united in the love of our beautiful hills and proud traditions."

"All of us," continued Miss Tibbetts, "both as individuals and as members of the Historical Society, are deeply appreciative of the generosity and thoughtfulness of the Trustees of the William Bingham II Trust . . . Traditions are of value only to the extent which they are recognized and respected. The gift of this building represents much more than material generosity on the part of the Bingham Trustees. It responds to the deep love which Mr. Bingham felt for the section of Oxford County and its people. We owe the Trustees much for a generous and graciously conceived gift. In expressing our thanks we pledge ourselves to continue to care for the local traditions by which this gift is inspired."

The chairman of the board of trustees of the Bethel Historical Society, Ed Quinn, also thanked Mr. Vachon with a few gracious remarks, after which the officers of the Society, the board of trustees and Mr. Vachon as agent representing the Bingham Trust, posed for photographs.

In spite of difficult traveling, sub-freezing weather and gas shortages there was a large turnout of members and visitors. They were all well rewarded, not only by feeling a sense of participation in a history-making occasion, but by the program which followed the transfer ceremony. This took the form of a talk by Margaret Tibbetts on "The Gehring Clinic", the institution for the treatment of nervous diseases founded by Dr. John George Gehring in 1895 and which was in operation in Bethel until his retirement in 1922. It was to this clinic that William Bingham II came for treatment and during the time he spent in Bethel he became personally interested in the town. Being a millionaire—almost without

SENIOR CITIZENS HERE ABOUT EARLY RAILROADING TUESDAY

A group of 60 made up of members, guests, cooks, waitresses, entertainers and happy people met at the Congregational Church on Tuesday for the February meeting of the Senior Citizens.

President Sarah Stevens extended greetings and welcome to all. A large group from Bryant Pond attended and hopes are that they will come again.

Anna Henderson of Sumner representing Outreach Work of Project Independence and Olive LaSalle of Oxford director of Humanities Program were guests.

A special visitor was Albert Skillings who came for the program. It is hoped that he and his wife, Stella, will join the group.

The long tables were bright with spring flowers, jellies and confections. Women from Our Lady of the Snows parish served their usual bounteous and delicious meal.

Birthdays recognized were of Sarah Stevens, Joe Perry, Minnie Wilson, Herschel Glines, Marjorie Cummings, Mary Ladd and Selma Chapman.

Ed Quinn gave a comprehensive history of the early railroads from the factors deciding the routes taken, early surveying, laborers including the natives of Ireland (who stayed and settled Greenwood's Irish Neighborhood), the completion, the first train, and the celebration. His talk included humorous incidents and was delightfully received.

Mr. Quinn's narrative was enhanced and complemented by fine pictures shown by Joseph Vetkusky. The sight of puffing engines, trains and busy stations added enjoyment and a touch of nostalgia.

With sparkling weather, old friends, pleasant guests, expert catering, and an extra good program, the Seniors had a great day.

exception the Clinic patients were people of great wealth—he was in a position to implement this interest with philanthropies—endowments to Gould Academy, the Rumford Community Hospital, the Bethel Inn, to mention a few—which began in the early part of this century and continue to the present day through the William Bingham II Trust program. The latest of these is the Moses Mason House.

By recounting the always fascinating and sometimes very amusing anecdotal history of the Gehring Clinic, Miss Tibbetts led her audience to understand how William Bingham II came to love the town and through his many benefactions still exerts a powerful influence on the life style of Bethel today.

WEEK IN OXFORD CO.

Despite shortages, ever rising costs and an uncertain economy, the Stowell Silk Spool Co. in Bryant Pond had a record year in 1973. Their optimism is high for 1974.

It is announced that Oxford County will receive $80,000 in federal disaster assistance as a result of damages during the December flooding. The funds are to cover costs of repairs to public roads, buildings and utilities. According to Oxford County Civil Defense Director Paul Ramsey, the towns of Woodstock and Sumner and the Rumford Water District will receive the three largest single grants.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

The New Beat

A lot has been said lately about a new revival of religion. Many writers and researchers have come to the conclusion that religion will be the new beat of the new generation in the near future. These writers and researchers say young people have tried politics and discovered that political involvement doesn't bring the inner peace and happiness that they are searching for.

Happily, these young people are discovering where it's really at. They are coming home to inner peace and joy found in our wonderful living God. They're giving a new beat to an old favorite throughout generations — the love of God and love for our brothers around the world.

God gives meaning and purpose to life. He always has and he always will. So whether you are a member of the "new" generation or not, God wants you to get in tune with the new beat.

your week ahead BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: February 24 to March 2

ARIES
Mar. 21 - Apr. 19

Your chart, so it seems, looks like a weather map. So, in one form or another, the outdoors or elements - will change your present routine.

TAURUS
Apr. 20 - May 20

Beware of a "sure thing." For many members of your sign, get-rich schemes are probable. Actually, it's not an ideal time to put your faith or money into "guarantees."

GEMINI
May 21 - June 20

It's not likely that you'll fail in the venture you have long held in mind. Actually, this week's cosmic cycle finds you in an ideal position to speculate.

MOONCHILD
June 21 - July 22

You'll be in position to advise an associate about finances. Try to be fair! Don't base your counsel on how it affects you personally.

LEO
July 23 - Aug. 22

This week, paint your feelings with iodine and throw your total effort into your job, task or project. Otherwise, you will be taking every wrong direction.

VIRGO
Aug. 23 - Sept. 22

Beware! Mischief is on the march. Many members of your sign will be running up blind alleys... guided by half truths and rumors.

LIBRA
Sept. 23 - Oct. 22

Matters of a hidden nature show in your chart. Apparently there's smoldering animosity developing among your associates. So, try to proceed with caution.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23 - Nov. 21

Two aspects show in your chart. First look for an unexpected overture. Next, it is probable that you will be rewarded for past performance.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22 - Dec. 21

A rare planetary configuration, in your chart, suggests: It's an ideal and recommended period to mix business and pleasure. So, take advantage of an unusual opportunity.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22 - Jan. 19

Someone in authority is going to give you an edge on the pack. According to your chart, superiors will be working in your behalf, behind the scene.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20 - Feb. 18

Hold it Aquarius! Be certain that your facts are straight... before you air a grievance with a superior. Incidentally, the same applies with the other sex.

PISCES
Feb. 19 - Mar. 20

There are strong, very strong indications that an event of which you have no control - will bring you popularity. This week should be favorable... that's up to you, of course.

A HUMANE INTEREST

STORY — Part V

by Walt Cherry

"Feelings" is the key word in finding a new life at Elan. The enrollee must care for himself and others before anything can be accomplished. Each loathes himself and the life he was leading. In large part, the loathing is unconscious, at first. Indifference toward others is usually deliberate. To a soul, each of the enrollees enters Elan with repressed feelings of which he may be only vaguely aware, or which he recognizes, but is afraid or ashamed to face. Until he does bare them, there can be no change.

The feelings, to mention a few, are guilt, inadequacy, sex identity confusion, race inferiority complex, poverty, and jealousy. They are not commonly shared. Each is hiding different secrets. Uncovering the secrets is the task of the participant, peers and staff. Intense and persistent psychoanalysis is employed in the form of simple discussion with individuals, or with "encounter groups."

In such a group, peers are gathered and assembled by one or more of the professional or para-professional staff. The subjects' behavior patterns and attitudes are examined and discussed to see if the why can be discovered. It is not a simple process, and, in most cases, several attempts must be made before a breakthrough. The difficulty lies not in the nature of the secret, but in the depths at which it is buried, and the protective devices the subject uses to keep his secret. Experienced group leaders who have themselves played the same games, are not discouraged easily, and are less easily fooled by dodges of fraud and evasiveness. Invariably, the malignant secrets are uncovered.

Once the repressed ideas have been exposed, the next tool is used to bare them fully and to force the enrollee to face them. This is the "primal scream" technique. Before his peers, the subject repeats over and over again, the particular thought or feeling which has caused the bad behavior. In the beginning, the subject is, as before, reluctant to say it. He may whisper it, or speak it, but in such a low key, he may well have other thoughts on his mind; all persuading him, not to expose the feeling. With relentless coaxing and encouragement, the repetition becomes faster and louder and the protective thoughts dimmer, so that he can concentrate on the one thought—louder and louder—faster and faster—into hoarseness and tears and silence.

The session has forced him to say something he could not say before. Having done so finally, he comes to realize that what he was trying to hide was not as shameful or unutterable as he thought. From then on, he or she will be less and less reluctant to talk about it, until he or she is able or even anxious to do so.

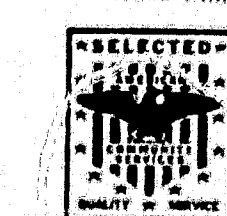

(This explanation has been abbreviated.)

DUPTON

Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corrae

Mrs. Mae went to Rumford Tuesday to stay a few days and serve on the jury.

Leslie Fuller Jr. visited in town one day last week.

Fred and Mrs. Mae attended church in Newry Sunday on their way to a visit with friends.

Audrey Lavallee and children moved into their home this week and two of the children, Tammy and Harry, started school Wednesday morning.

viated in deference to space limitations. It is not a simple process. Rarely is success attained in one session. Every tool used at Elan is a slow and difficult process. The example explained here might well require as many as ten or more attempts over a span of weeks.)

Uncovering these hangups is not the end of the process of reconstructing a life. It is the bare beginning. The remainder of this program is what requires the time and participation of the enrollee and the dependence upon staff and peers for help. He has been entered into a fictitious society, replete with obligations, demands, and, most of all, problems, that must be faced. The slothful, self-centered ways of the past must be discarded and new values acquired.

All enrollees begin as workers in one or another department. They have no privileges, and neither deserve nor are accorded any respect. However, if they do their work diligently, with a positive attitude, they will be given a lateral job change if indicated, or a promotion to the first level supervisor called "ramrod" and privileges that go with it. The remaining positions of progressive responsibility are: department head, running one of the many departments such as service, maintenance, laundry, or the like; and coordinator—the highest position in the hierarchy.

The progress from worker through coordinator is not automatic, nor is it ever smooth. If it were, chances are, it would have been accomplished by someone who didn't need what Elan has to offer in the first place. At any stage in the process of accepting and handling increased responsibilities, he or she may falter, show negative attitudes, slothfulness or inattention, and be "shot down" to worker again. The process must begin again and again. The objective, of course, is to instill a sense of responsibility and pride in accomplishment; a new vigor for life — a new elan.

"WHO'S RESPONSIBLE"
On the next Christian Science radio program, some people who thought life was a burden tell how they found it was really a joy. They saw that God was the source of all action.

NORTHWEST BETHEL

Mrs. Louise B. Chapman, Corres. —

The other day on T. V., I heard about a man who found out that he was a terminal cancer victim. He said at first he became very despondent, but eventually accepted the fact and decided to do something about it. He decided to make every day he had left count. I'm not trying to get morbid, however, there is something to learn about death—and that is; there is a life to live before.

Sit down, just for a minute and lock around you. Disregard all the turmoil present in today's news. Just sit and watch children at play. Hear children at play. Look around at all that's familiar. Have you been taking it for granted? Consider all that's been troubling you, how much of it was really worth all the stress? Sit by a window, and let the early morning sun warm your face. Look around at the mess in the living room and don't let it bother you, just sit for a minute as the sun works its magic on you. It's true that the pace of things today is fast moving, but do we really have to keep up? Set your own pace, you're the only ones you have to keep up with! Oh, by the way—will you be my valentine?

Victor Coolidge came home Friday. He had been a patient for several weeks at Rumford Community Hospital after a fall at work. He is much improved but it will be a few more months before he is able to return to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angevine and Mr. and Mrs. Avery Angevine, Bethel, were in Quincy, Mass., one day last week to attend the funeral of Ernest and Avery's cousin, Edmond Angevine.

"UP IN THE AIR" — Amy Vogt, Marianne Cousins, and Mary White watch their hot air balloon and wonder if their new class is going to be over their heads all the time. These three 8th grade girls are starting a unit on Winds and Weather, a 9th grade science. By taking advantage of the "open lab" policy at Teistar and working on science during study periods, these girls were able to complete the 8th grade ISCS book in 1/2 year. One of their final experiments involved working with yeast, and everyone in class enjoyed some hot yeast bread which was delicious.

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Correspondent

A beautiful world was waking to light as I looked from my window out across the frozen waters. There was a splash of rose and gold. Was it a sunrise of promise?

By afternoon it was warmer and more inviting while fleecy clouds sailed the sky. It was just the day I had waited for to go to the falls, "My Niagara" near the end of Big Pond.

At ten after one I left the road for the pond which had been swept nearly clean by the strong winds earlier in the week. I moved across and followed the shore line much of the way. Here and there small animals had left tracks in a dusting of snow.

When I neared the "Point" I kept well out from the mouth of the brook. I had no desire to go plummeting through what might be thin ice here.

Not far from this point I stepped into the woods to see if I could travel through to the falls, without sinking into the snow. There proved to be a good crust which held me nicely. The snow crystals in the hollows were as fine as flour. There were no tracks here, evidently nothing traveling this way. It was as though they had withdrawn to the bordering hills to let me pass into their land.

Now I heard the sound of water making bell-like music as it shimmered down into the pools of shadow.

Looking far up the evergreens stood clear against the sky.

Beneath it all shadows waltzed and swayed on the tiny skating rink or in the pool. The brook gurgled on with bright crystal pendants edging its waters. Miracle of design everywhere had transformed the landscape here into something unexpected and enchanting. So writing them down saves them for me.

Another pool, crystal clear, edged in moss was like a diamond set in emerald, adding a bit of summer to the scene.

As I made my way once more to the pond I could hear a breeze whispering through the spruces and the tap-tap of a woodpecker; his busy beak making a splendid echo as he searched for grubs.

CASCO'S NEW 4-YEAR GUARANTEE

7.51% 7.25%

ANNUAL YIELD

SIMPLE ANNUAL INTEREST

Yes, now your long-term savings can yield ever so slightly more than 7½% at Casco — 7.51% to be exact. With a four-year deposit of $1,000 or more in one of Casco's new 4-year guaranteed Savings Certificates you receive 7.25% simple annual interest. And in just one year Casco's daily compounding increases your actual yield to 7.51%.

Attractive as this new higher rate may be, it may not make sense for you to keep all your savings in a new 4-year guaranteed certificate because regulations impose a substantial penalty for early withdrawal. Federal law requires that you forfeit 3 months interest on the amount withdrawn and that the interest on this amount be reduced to the passbook rate.

This is why Casco's 2-in-1 savings idea makes so much sense. In one savings booklet you keep the record of both short-term and long-term savings. On the short-term side you enjoy in-one-day-out-the-next flexibility and interest at a full 5%. On the long-term side you choose the term you want — 1, 2, 3 or 4 years.

Yes, the new ideas in savings come from Casco.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

Oh, dear children, don't let anyone deceive you about this: if you are constantly doing what is good, it is because you are good, even as he is. But if you keep on sinning, it shows that you belong to Satan, who since he first began to sin has kept steadily at it. But the Son of God came to destroy these works of the devil. The person who has been born into God's family does not make a practice of sinning, because now God's life has been born into him and controls him—he has been born again.
